About the Course

The course aims at equipping practitioners with advanced knowledge & expert capability that would probably match the international standards of "The best" practice in the Play Therapy profession. As the name signifies, the course emphasises the use of play in a therapeutic relationship between the client and the therapist to facilitate therapeutic change. The entire course encompasses practical, theoretical, and experiential learning. With holistic approach to teaching, students will be provided with comprehensive and systematic knowledge, skills, experience, and the confidence to begin a career as a professionally qualified play therapist

5. When should I register?

Registrations are accepted on a 'first come first served' basis, and the registration process will be closed once all places on the course are taken. You are advised to register early to avoid disappointment. Contact 09600800020 through text or Wats app.

6. What is your cancellation policy?

You may make a substitution without charge at any time before the start of the course, but all cancellations must be confirmed in writing. If your cancellation is received more than three weeks before the commencement of the course, you will be eligible for a full refund. If your cancellation is received in the three-week period before the course starts, 25% of the course fee will be retained and after the start of the course, 50% of the course fee will be retained and if you cancel after eight weeks, the course fee is entirely non-refundable. If written notification is not received and you do not attend the course, the full course fee will be retained as a cancellation charge.

7. What materials will I be provided with?

A full course pack together with supplementary materials will be provided at the first session of each module through email.

8. For whom our courses will suit?

The course is designed to benefit professional participants who are or will be leaders in their fields. This includes psychologists, counsellors, social workers, special educationists, academicians, human resource professionals, teachers, management executives and NGO representatives. Interested members of the public who want to improve their knowledge of mental health are also welcome to do a few courses provided they fulfil the course eligibility requirements. A university degree will normally be required as a condition of acceptance on the course. Go through each course page carefully as the requirements, course objective and target learners may differ from one course to another (check the course page above).

Our online course will function like a traditional face-to-face class, but it will be delivered via distance technology through materials which are designed to bridge the absence of classroom interaction. You will be able to ask your instructor questions, complete assignments and take tests. Online students are connected with the support resources they need. We are here to help.

19. How to complete assignments?

Your course guide will provide clear instructions for completing each assignment, and you should email it to your course guide. You can either type it out or write down or draw or record as a voice file or capture a video and submit. Your guide will help you with this.

20. How will I be assessed for certification?

Your assignments will be assessed for certification. You won't be able to copy paste your assignments as they need your presence of mind and expertise to complete.

21. Whom to contact to register?
